MEXICAN BANDITS KILL A RANCHMAN

and, returning, found the doors and windows open. Entering a door he was fired upon by one of the intruders, but escaped unhurt and retreated to a room, where he found his Winchester. Armed with this he went out into a hall, where he met one of the gang and fired at him, but missed. The robber returned the fire and succeeded in wounding Lopez, who fired again and got his man. The robber died instantly while Lopez lingered for several hours. The rest of the band fled taking with them several articles of value.

The telegraph wires on the North Western were out of commission for two days because miscreants tore down 12 poles. A repair gang was sent over the road by the superintendent and the trouble was found to be near San Antonio. After 24 hours the wires were again placed in commission.

JOSE CHAVARRIA IS NOW IN THE PENITENTIARY.

Mexican Who Ruled a Rumpus That Resulted in Three Being Wounded, Has Been Made Prisoner.

Chihuahua, Mex., Dec. 22.—After evading officers of the law for three weeks, during which time he spent in the mountains committing depredations, it is said, Jose Chavarria, who created a riot at a dance held in the town of San Andres early in the month, was apprehended by rurales along with five of his companions near the town of Cuahuilicahu.

Chavarria and his men were riding through a pass when called on to stop. They capitulated without further ceremony and were disarmed and taken to the station at San Antonio and placed aboard the North Western train under guard and when this city was reached were escorted to the penitentiary.

About three weeks ago Chavarria and five of his companions attended a dance during which much "red eye" was consumed. Chavarria, it is said, became involved in a discussion with another guest over a young woman and it culminated in a free-for-all fight in which guns were used. When the smoke had cleared away three of the male guests were stretched out on the floor seriously wounded and Chavarria and his companions had vanished.

MEXICAN AT PARRAL ROUTS BAND OF ROBBERS.

Man Named Jurado Is Said to Have Taken to the Hills Near There With a Band of Disturbers.

Parral, Mex., Dec. 22.—Adolfo Soto, a well known young man of Parral, was held up by robbers. Soto did not lose his self possession for a second, but promptly dived into the nearest of the gentry and, finding that the enemy held a knife about "a mile long," he routed them in a most complete manner and escaped with but slight bruises about the hands. He had 15 cents which remained intact in one of the pockets of his vest.

It is said that one Jurado, a one-armed former insurrecto, has taken to the hills with about 30 men and is committing depredations in the district close to the rancho. The rurales have made efforts to catch Jurado and his men, but thus far their prey has eluded all efforts in that direction.

DURANGO MAN IS MURDERED BY A BAND OF ROBBERS.

In Found Dead in Apartments, Throat Cut, and Evidence of a Terrific Struggle in the Room.

Durango, Dgo., Dec. 22.—Joquin Verdusco, proprietor of one of the largest mercantile establishments in this part, was found dead in his apartment, his throat cut. Evidence of a terrific struggle was visible, as the furniture in the room was scattered with blood and disarranged. The window overlooking the street was open and it is thought that the assassins entered and left by this window. So far as it is known Verdusco had no enemies, the work is thought to be that of thieves, who entered the residence for the purposes of robbery. The murder has caused profound indignation in the city.

FIFTY ADDITIONAL SCHOOLS FOR STATE OF CHIHUAHUA.

Chihuahua, Mex., Dec. 22.—In the course of the next four or five days there will be submitted to congress by governor Gonzalez, along with many other progressive measures, a recommendation for the establishment and support of at least 50 additional schools to be located in various sections of the state. According to the governor the scholastic census shows that at least 23 million children are in need of schooling. The rurales have made efforts to catch Jurado and his men, but thus far their prey has eluded all efforts in that direction.

FATHER AND LITTLE SON MURDERED BY ASSASSINS.

Balleza, Chih., Dec. 22.—Drunkard robbes the house of Rosario Casillas, a farmer living in the little village of San Javier near here, and when he appeared three drunken men opened fire on him and his little son who had followed the father to the door. Residents of the vicinity hearing the shots came to the door and found both dead. The assassins escaped.

PHYSICIANS DECLARE THAT C. W. MORSE CANNOT LIVE.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 22.—Chas. W. Morse, the New York banker, must resign his freedom within a very short time, he will die, according to a report prepared and sent to Washington after a conference yesterday of local physicians and military surgeons at Fort McPherson, where Morse is being moved from the federal penitentiary for treatment.

TOYAH BANKER IS NOT SEEKING OFFICE

Solicited to Run For Legislature, but Business Will Not Permit

James E. Bowen, president of the First National bank at Toyah, Tex., who has been frequently spoken of as the candidate for the state legislature from the Culberson county district, will not become a candidate for the position in the legislature at the next election.

In regard to the election Mr. Bowen said: "It is true that I have been solicited to become a candidate for the legislature, and I appreciate the support that has been offered me, because it came from those who know me best, but my business affairs will require my whole time next year, as I expect to dispose of my interests outside of El Paso, and engage in business here, therefore I cannot spare the time to make a campaign and will not be a candidate."

MANY WOULD LINE UP AT PIE COUNTER

Appointive Jobs in Arizona Are Not Going Begging Just Now

Douglas, Ariz., Dec. 22.—Since the end of the campaign, aspirants to appointive offices have been springing up on every side in Cochise county. Chief among these is Dan H. Seed, a real estate man in Bisbee, and a former miner, who wishes to be state mine inspector. Clay Hankins, of Bisbee, seeks to land a job in the capital city. He was the chairman of the Democratic City Central committee of Douglas. Robert S. Macley is after the clerkship of the Cochise county board of supervisors. A. C. Pearson is after appointment as assistant to the state treasurer. As this office is not in existence and may not be created by the first state legislature, he may have to content himself with something else. He is at present employed in the Copper Queen smelter. There are yet others mentioned who have not announced themselves, but are working quietly in hope of lining up a good job at the pie counter.

Morris was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for 25 years for the murder of John Walsh, a saloon-keeper at Leadville, in 1893. Morris claims that even if he were pardoned, unless he were paroled and kept under the protection of the state of Colorado, he soon would be in prison again, for there are several other charges to be made against him in other states, all at the instigation of Thomas Pennington, of Omaha, he claims. The most notable of them, Morris said, is a charge of committing a diamond robbery in Indiana. Morris said he can produce good support to an indictment that he was in the state of Indiana when the robbery was committed. Pennington, Morris declares, used his influence effectually to railroad him to the penitentiary in Colorado.
